INTRODUCTION

This report provides a summary of responses to the PFEW National Detectives Survey received from respondents in Greater Manchester Police in 2017.

Some of the questions asked in this year's survey were the same as in the 2015 National Detectives Survey; this allowed us to monitor any changes since the last time the survey was conducted. Other questions were new to 2017, to be able to look in more detail at the context in which detectives are currently working.

Where appropriate, details of average responses for the police service as a whole are also presented, differences between the national and local responses have not been tested statistically and therefore any differences reported are for guidance only and must be treated with caution.

RESPONSE RATE AND RESPONDENTS

The National Detectives Survey 2017 opened on 1st September 2017 and closed on 24th September 2017. During this time, detective officers were invited to attend via the Police Federation's National Membership Database, as well as via local Joint Branch Boards and the National Detectives Forum mailing list.

259 responses were received from detectives in Greater Manchester Police. There is still no accepted measure of the total number of detectives in England and Wales. It is therefore not possible to calculate a definitive response rate for the survey as a proportion of the total number of detectives. However, for comparison the number of responses received within Greater Manchester Police was lower than when this survey was last conducted in 2015, when 373 responses were received.

IMPACT OF SERVICE CUTS

57% of respondents within Greater Manchester Police said that service cuts have had a major impact on their morale; this was higher than the national average, where 56% detectives said that service cuts have had a major impact upon their morale.

In addition, 29% of respondents within Greater Manchester Police said service cuts have had a major impact upon their physical health and wellbeing, whilst 27% said that service cuts have had a major impact upon their mental health and wellbeing. For comparison, in England and Wales as whole 27% of detectives said that service cuts have had a major impact on their physical health and wellbeing and also on their mental health and wellbeing.

How, if at all, have service cuts affected...	No impact	Minor impact	Moderate impact	Major impact
Your morale	4%	13%	26%	57%
Your physical health and wellbeing	11%	22%	38%	29%
Your mental health and wellbeing	10%	22%	40%	27%

63% of respondents in Greater Manchester Police said that service cuts have substantially increased their overall workload; 57% said that service cuts have substantially increased how fatigued they feel; and 51% said that service cuts have substantially increased how stressful they find their jobs. Comparison of these proportions in Greater Manchester Police to England and Wales as a whole can be found in the table below.

	Greater Manchester Police	England and Wales
Your overall workload	63% substantially increased (32% slightly increased)	62% substantially increased (32% slightly increased)
How fatigued you feel	57% substantially increased (33% slightly increased)	53% substantially increased (38% slightly increased)
How stressful you find your job	51% substantially increased (37% slightly increased)	49% substantially increased (41% slightly increased)

WORKLOAD AND JOB DEMANDS

76% of respondents in Greater Manchester Police said that their workload in the last 12 months was either too high or much too high. This is the same as the national average - in England and Wales as a whole, 76% of respondents said that their workload had been too high or much too high in the last 12 months.

24% of respondents in Greater Manchester Police said that their workload enabled them to provide the service needed to victims either most or all of the time; this compares to 27% of detectives in England and Wales as a whole. The proportion of respondents in Greater Manchester Police who said that their workload enabled them to provide the service needed to victims either most or all of the time has increased since 2015 when 22% of respondents felt that they could provide the service needed either most or all of the time.

In addition, 20% of respondents in Greater Manchester Police said that their workload enabled them to provide the service needed to witnesses either most or all of the time, in comparison to 22% of detectives in England and Wales overall. The proportion of respondents in Greater Manchester Police who said that their workload enabled them to provide the service needed to witnesses either most or all of the time has decreased since 2015, when 25% of respondents felt that they could provide the service needed either most or all of the time.

Does your workload enable you to provide the service needed to...?	Never	Sometimes	Most or all of the time
Victims	9%	67%	24%
Witnesses	12%	68%	20%
