

PFEW Pay and Morale Survey 2021 Metropolitan Police Service

Author: Jinsha Joshy

Police Federation of England and Wales

Security classification	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Not protectively marked	May be published openly / immediately
	<input type="checkbox"/> Protected	Review whether broader publication
	<input type="checkbox"/> Restricted	Not for open publication. Restricted to:
	<input type="checkbox"/> Confidential

Contents

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY	3
INTRODUCTION.....	4
RESPONSE RATE AND RESPONDENTS	4
REPRESENTATIVENESS	4
PAY AND REMUNERATION.....	6
COST OF LIVING.....	6
SATISFACTION WITH PAY	9
MORALE	10
REASONS FOR LOW MORALE.....	12
ENGAGEMENT.....	13
ATTITUDES TOWARDS THE POLICE SERVICE.....	13
OFFICERS' TREATMENT IN THE POLICE.....	15
WORKLOAD AND WORKING TIME	17
INTENTION TO LEAVE.....	19
REASONS FOR INTENDING TO LEAVE THE POLICE SERVICE.....	21
NOTE FOR BRANCH BOARDS.....	22

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Respondents and Response Rate

- 5385 responses were received from Metropolitan Police Service, representing a response rate of around 16% (based on July 2021 Home Office figures of officer headcount).

Pay and Remuneration

- 85% of respondents from Metropolitan Police Service said that they are dissatisfied with their overall remuneration (including basic pay and allowances).
- 51% of respondents from Metropolitan Police Service reported worrying about the state of their personal finances every day or almost every day.
- 79% of respondents from Metropolitan Police Service felt that they were worse off financially than they were five years ago.
- 18% of respondents from Metropolitan Police Service reported never or almost never having enough money to cover all their essentials.

Morale and Engagement

- 64% of respondents from Metropolitan Police Service told us that their morale is currently low.
- 89% of respondents from Metropolitan Police Service felt that morale within the force is currently low.
- 71% of respondents from Metropolitan Police Service said that they would not recommend joining the police to others.
- 95% of respondents from Metropolitan Police Service said that they do not feel respected by the government.
- 17% of respondents from Metropolitan Police Service told us that they had an intention to leave the police service either within the next 2 years or as soon as possible.

Workload and Working Time

- 7% of respondents from Metropolitan Police Service said that they have never or rarely been able to take at least one rest day per week in the last 12 months.
- 53% of respondents from Metropolitan Police Service said that over the last 12 months, their workload has been too high or much too high.

INTRODUCTION

The PFEW Pay and Morale Survey obtains federated rank members' views on their pay and conditions, as well as their attitudes to their work and the police service in general. The Pay and Morale survey is one of the largest annual surveys of police officers conducted within England and Wales and has been conducted each year since 2014.

This report provides a summary of responses to the PFEW Pay and Morale Survey received from respondents within Metropolitan Police Service in 2021. Where appropriate, details of overall responses for the police service as a whole are also presented¹.

RESPONSE RATE AND RESPONDENTS

5385 responses were received from Metropolitan Police Service, representing a response rate of around 16% (based on July 2021 Home Office figures of officer headcount). The national response rate for the 2021 survey was approximately 22% of all federated rank officers in England and Wales. Last year's response rate for Metropolitan Police Service was 15%. Please bear this in mind when making comparisons with last year's findings.

REPRESENTATIVENESS

In order to calculate whether the sample size is representative, it is necessary to take the population size into account, along with the margin of error and the confidence level. In essence, the margin of error measures the maximum amount by which the results from the sample are expected to differ from those of the actual population and is calculated using the sample size (the number of responses from federated rank officers in Metropolitan Police Service), the population size (the total number of federated rank officers in Metropolitan Police Service) and the confidence level.

The smaller the margin of error, the more confident we can be that the results are representative of the overall sample. For example: If 60% of respondents answered 'Yes' to one of the survey questions and the margin of error is 5%, we can estimate that 55% - 65% of the whole population would answer the same if asked.

If the margin of error is less than 5%, it can be considered to be within the normal bounds of academic rigour. The margin of error for this report has been calculated, and at a 95% confidence level, this report has a margin of error of 1%.

¹ Data were weighted at a national level on the basis of respondents' force to ensure that each force were proportionally represented within the national sample; no weightings were applied at a force level. More information about weightings can be found in the 2021 Technical Annex R068/2021.

Overall in England and Wales, 29 survey respondents declined to state which force they belonged to. The responses from these officers have been included within the national data but are excluded from force-level analysis.

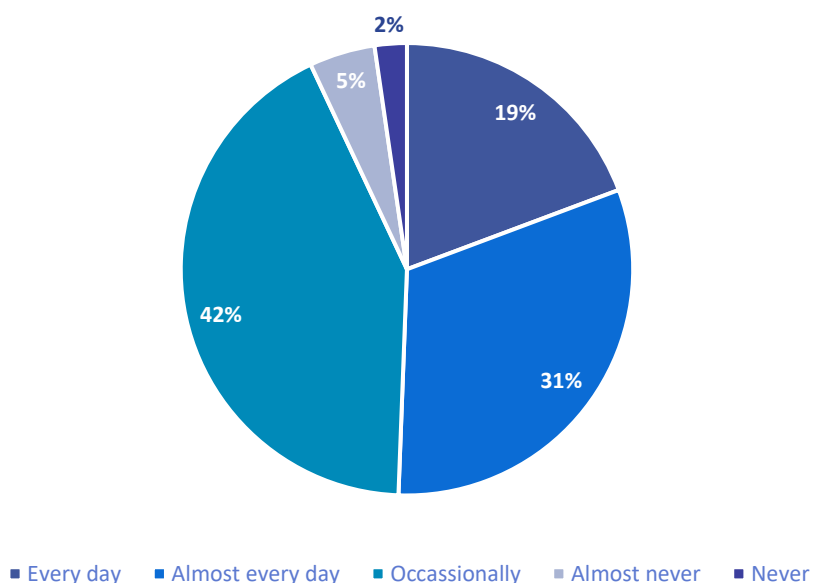

80% of responses from Metropolitan Police Service were received from male officers and 20% of responses were from female officers. 69% of respondents were Constables, 22% were Sergeants, 8% were Inspectors and 2% were Chief Inspectors.

PAY AND REMUNERATION

COST OF LIVING

51% of respondents from Metropolitan Police Service reported worrying about money every day or almost every day. This is higher than the national figure for England and Wales as a whole, where 45% of respondents reported that they worried about money every day or almost every day.

How often do you find yourself worrying about money?

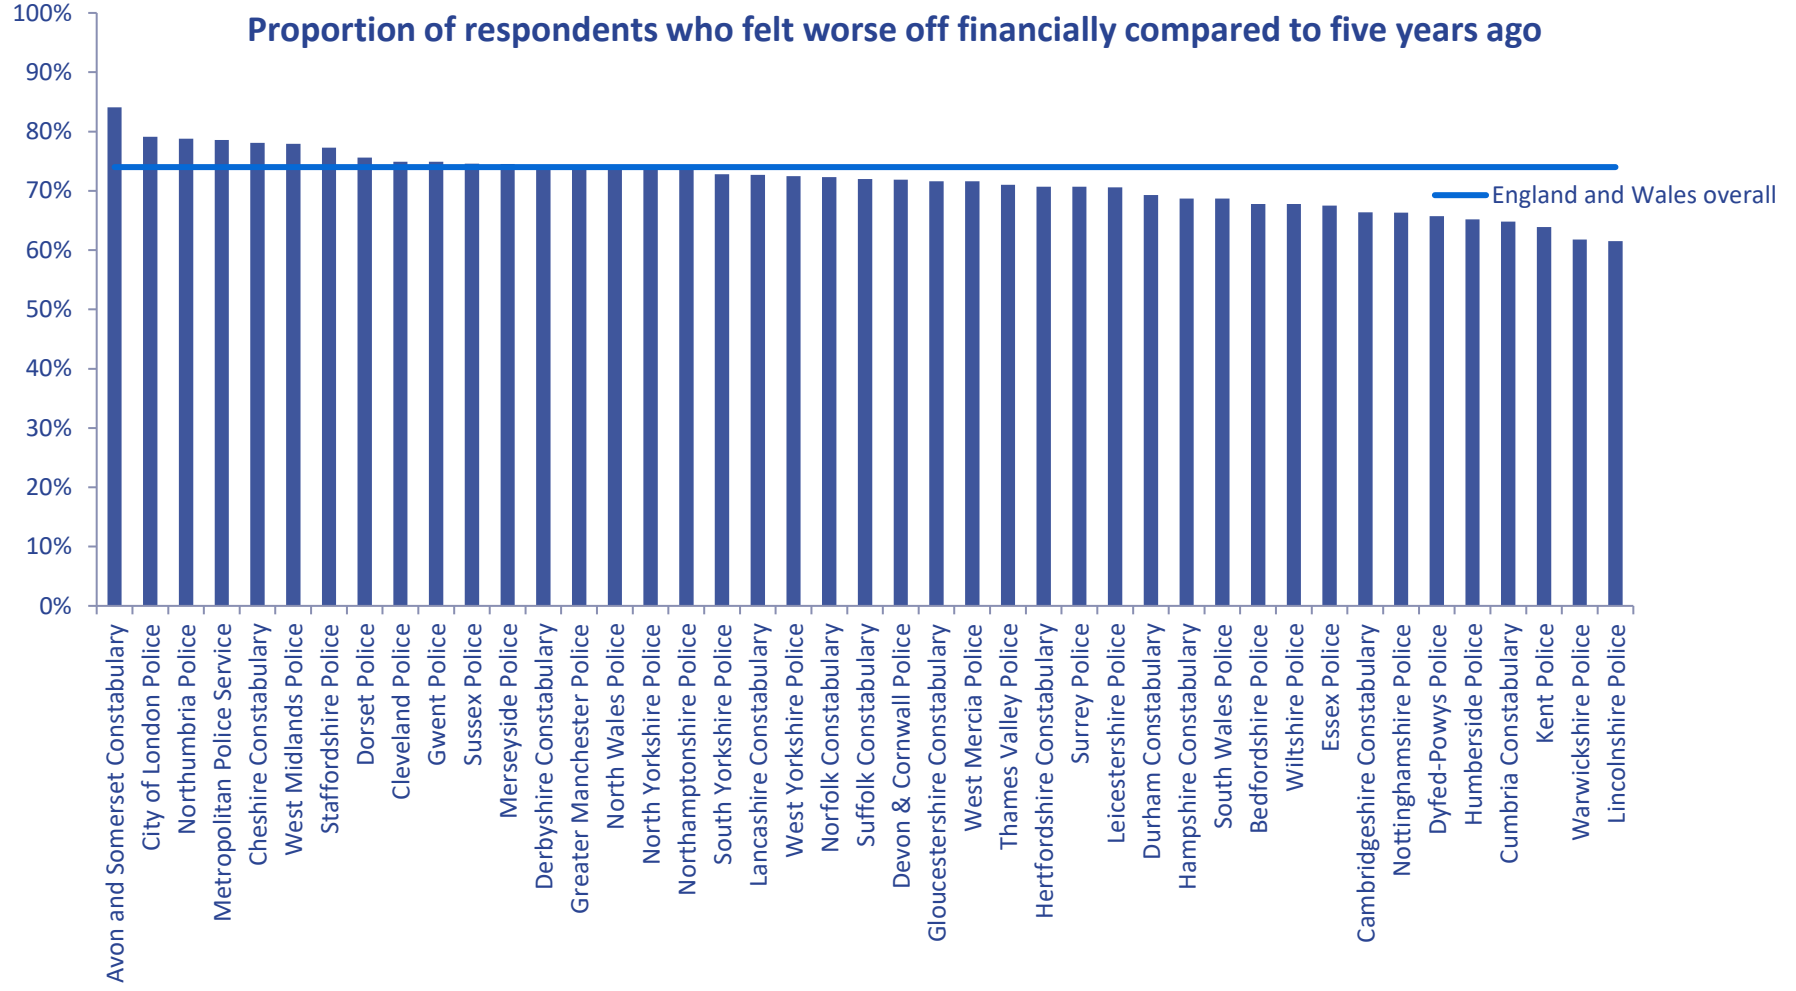

65% of respondents in Metropolitan Police Service said had that they had enough money to cover all of their essentials either every month or almost every month. In contrast, 18% reported never or almost never having enough money to cover their monthly essentials. Nationally, the proportion of respondents who said they never or almost never had enough money to cover their essentials was 14%.

79% of respondents from Metropolitan Police Service felt that they were worse off financially than they were five years ago. This proportion is higher than the equivalent proportion for England and Wales as a whole, where 74% of respondents said that they were worse off financially than five years ago.

	2021
Financially worse off than 12 months ago	77%
Financially worse off than 5 years ago	79%

Proportion of respondents who felt worse off financially compared to five years ago

SATISFACTION WITH PAY

93% of respondents from Metropolitan Police Service told us that they do not feel that they are paid fairly for the stresses and strains they have within their job, and 86% said that they are not fairly paid for the hazards they faced within their role. Nationally, 92% of respondents said that they were not fairly paid for the stresses and strains of their job and 86% said that they were not fairly paid for the hazards they faced.

Comparison of 2021 and 2020 figures for perceptions of fair pay in Metropolitan Police Service is provided in the table below.

	2021	2020
Do not feel fairly paid for the stresses and strains of their job	93%	87%
Do not feel fairly paid for the hazard faced within their job	86%	80%

85% of respondents from Metropolitan Police Service said that they are dissatisfied with their overall remuneration (including basic pay and allowances) and 79% said that they are dissatisfied with their pensions. Comparison of 2021 and 2020 figures for pay and remuneration in Metropolitan Police Service is provided in the table below.

	2021	2020
Dissatisfied with total remuneration	85%	76%
Dissatisfied with pension	79%	70%

MORALE

64% of respondents from Metropolitan Police Service told us that their morale is either low or very low. This is higher than the proportion of respondents in England and Wales as a whole who said that their personal morale was either low or very low, which this year was 58%.

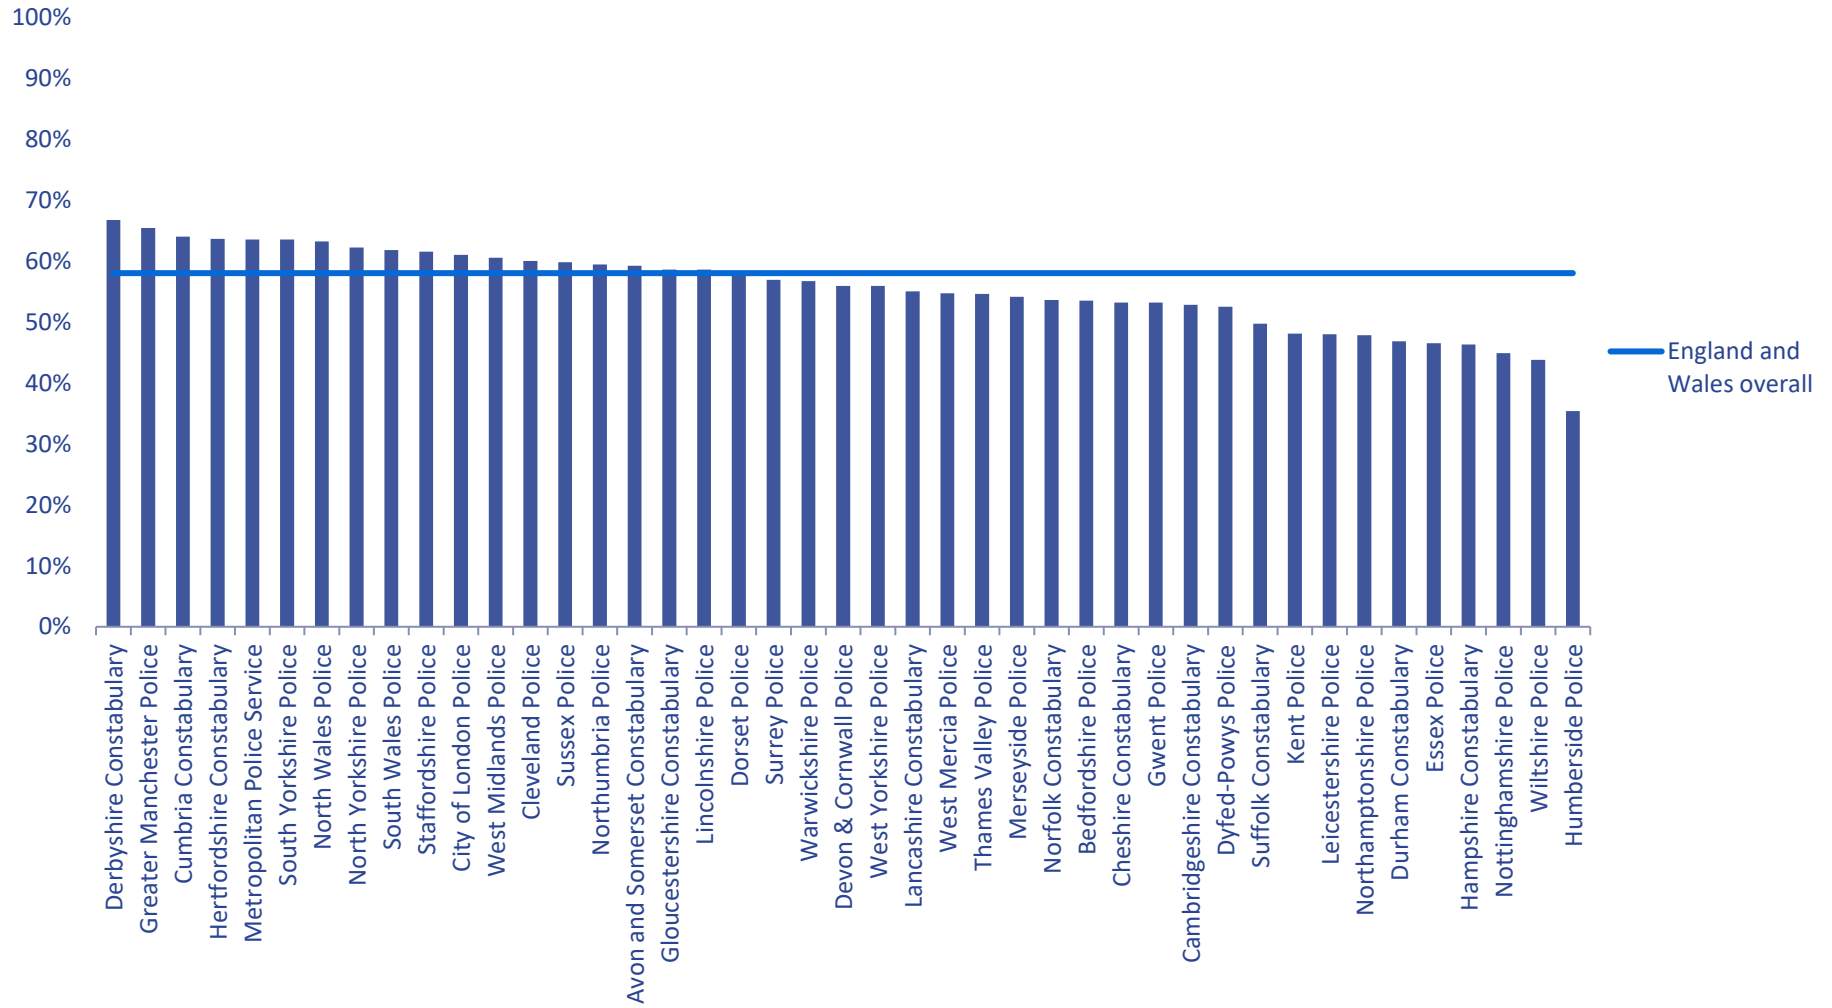

89% of respondents from Metropolitan Police Service felt that morale within the force is low or very low. Nationally, 84% of respondents said that morale within their force is low or very low.

Comparison of 2021 and 2020 figures for morale in Metropolitan Police Service are provided in the table below.

	2021	2020
Low or very low personal morale	64%	52%
Low or very low force morale	89%	87%

Proportion of respondents reporting low personal morale

REASONS FOR LOW MORALE

The survey asked respondents about the factors that had a positive or negative impact on their morale, the table below shows the proportion of respondents in Metropolitan Police Service who said a particular factor has had a negative impact upon their morale compared to the national figures.

	Negative impact on morale (Metropolitan Police Service)	Negative impact on morale (England and Wales)
Pay	88%	84%
Workload and responsibilities	55%	64%
Work-life balance	53%	58%
How the police are treated by the government	96%	95%
How the police are treated by the public	89%	84%
The COVID-19 crisis	55%	61%
Your pension	79%	73%

ENGAGEMENT

ATTITUDES TOWARDS THE POLICE SERVICE

63% of respondents from Metropolitan Police Service said that they did not feel valued within the police. This compares to 64% of respondents in England and Wales as a whole.

I feel valued in the police service

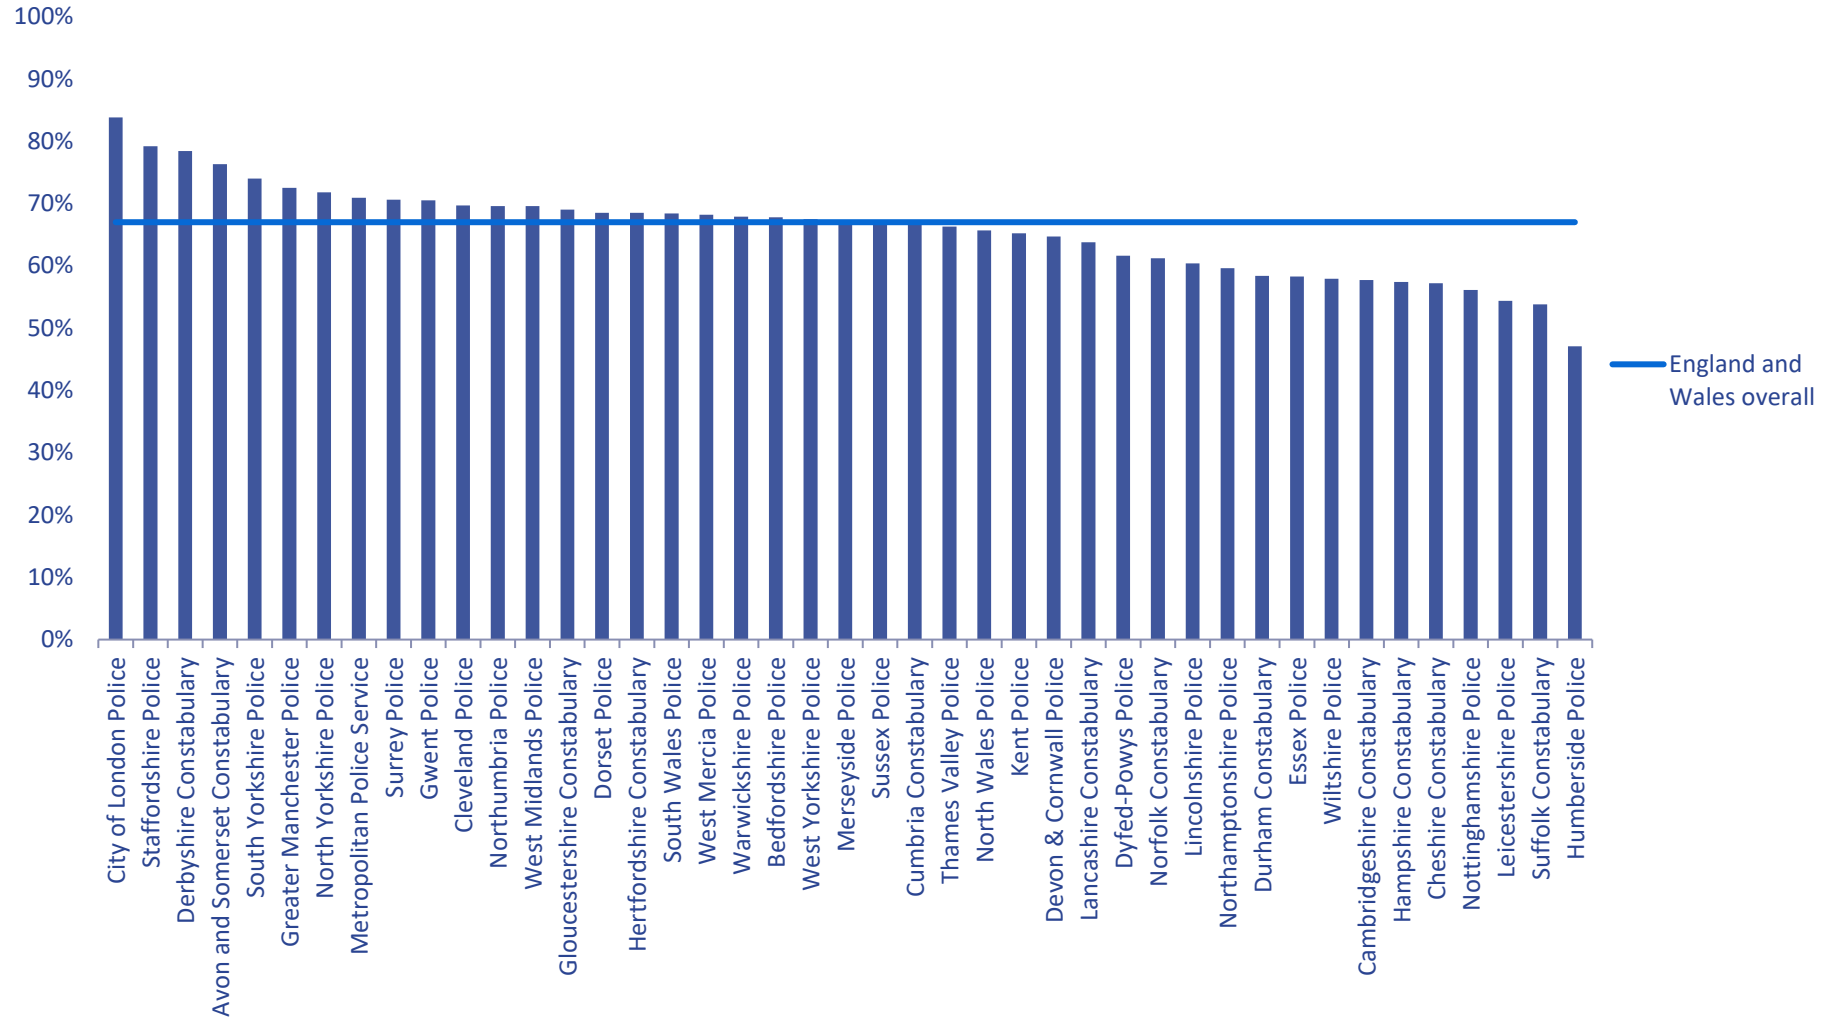

71% of respondents from Metropolitan Police Service said that they would not recommend joining the police to others. This is higher than the national figure, in England and Wales as a whole 67% of respondents said that they would not recommend joining the police.

Comparison of the 2021 and 2020 figures for attitudes towards the police in Metropolitan Police Service are provided in the table below.

	2021	2020
I would not recommend joining the police to others	71%	65%
I do not feel valued in the police	63%	60%

Proportion of respondents who would not recommend the police to others

OFFICERS' TREATMENT IN THE POLICE

95% of respondents from Metropolitan Police Service said that they do not feel that the police are respected by the government. This is higher than the 93% of respondents in England and Wales overall who said that they do not feel that the police are respected by the government. 1% of officers in Metropolitan Police Service said that they feel the police are respected by the government.

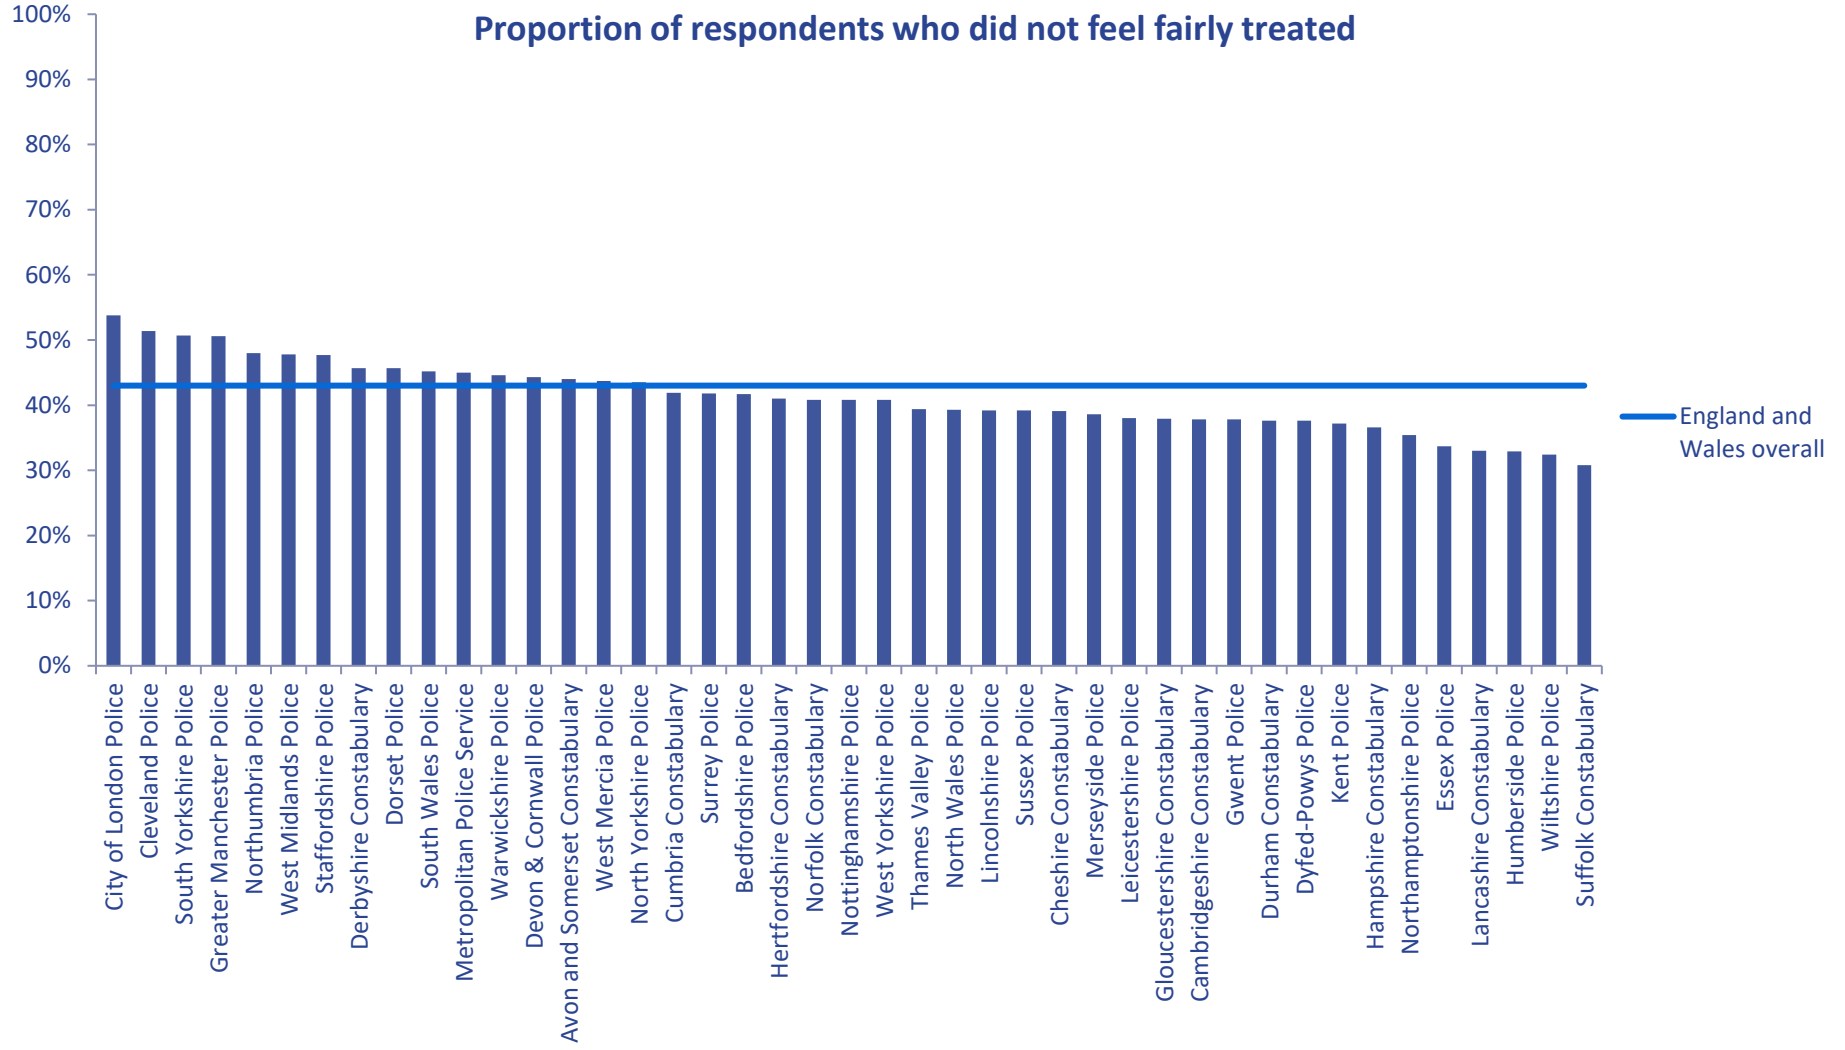

82% of respondents from Metropolitan Police Service said that they do not feel that the police are respected by the public compared to 6% of respondents from Metropolitan Police Service who said that they do feel that the police are respected by the public. Nationally, 78% of respondents said that they do not feel that the police are respected by the public.

45% of respondents from Metropolitan Police Service said that they are not treated fairly compared to 27% of respondents from Metropolitan Police Service who feel that they are treated fairly. Respondents in Metropolitan Police Service were less likely to say that they are treated fairly compared to England and Wales as a whole, where 30% said that they are treated fairly.

Comparison of 2021 and 2020 figures for fairness in Metropolitan Police Service are provided below.

	2021		2020
	Disagree	Agree	Disagree	Agree
I am treated fairly	45%	27%	39%	33%

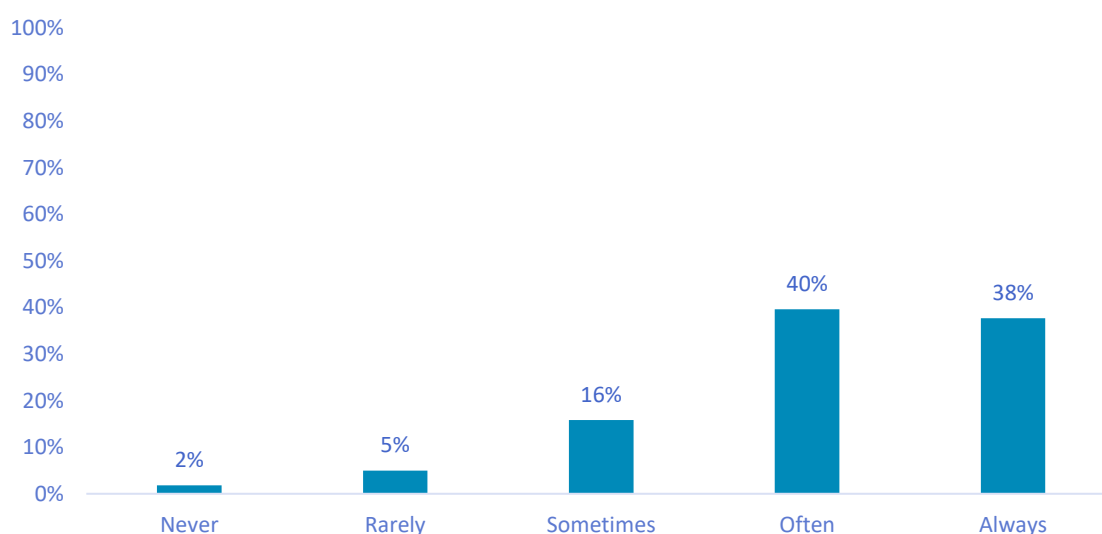

Proportion of respondents who did not feel fairly treated

WORKLOAD AND WORKING TIME

7% of respondents from Metropolitan Police Service said that they have either never or rarely been able to take at least one rest day per week in the last 12 months. This is compared to 6% of respondents in England and Wales as a whole who said that they have either never or rarely been able to take at least one rest day per week in the last 12 months.

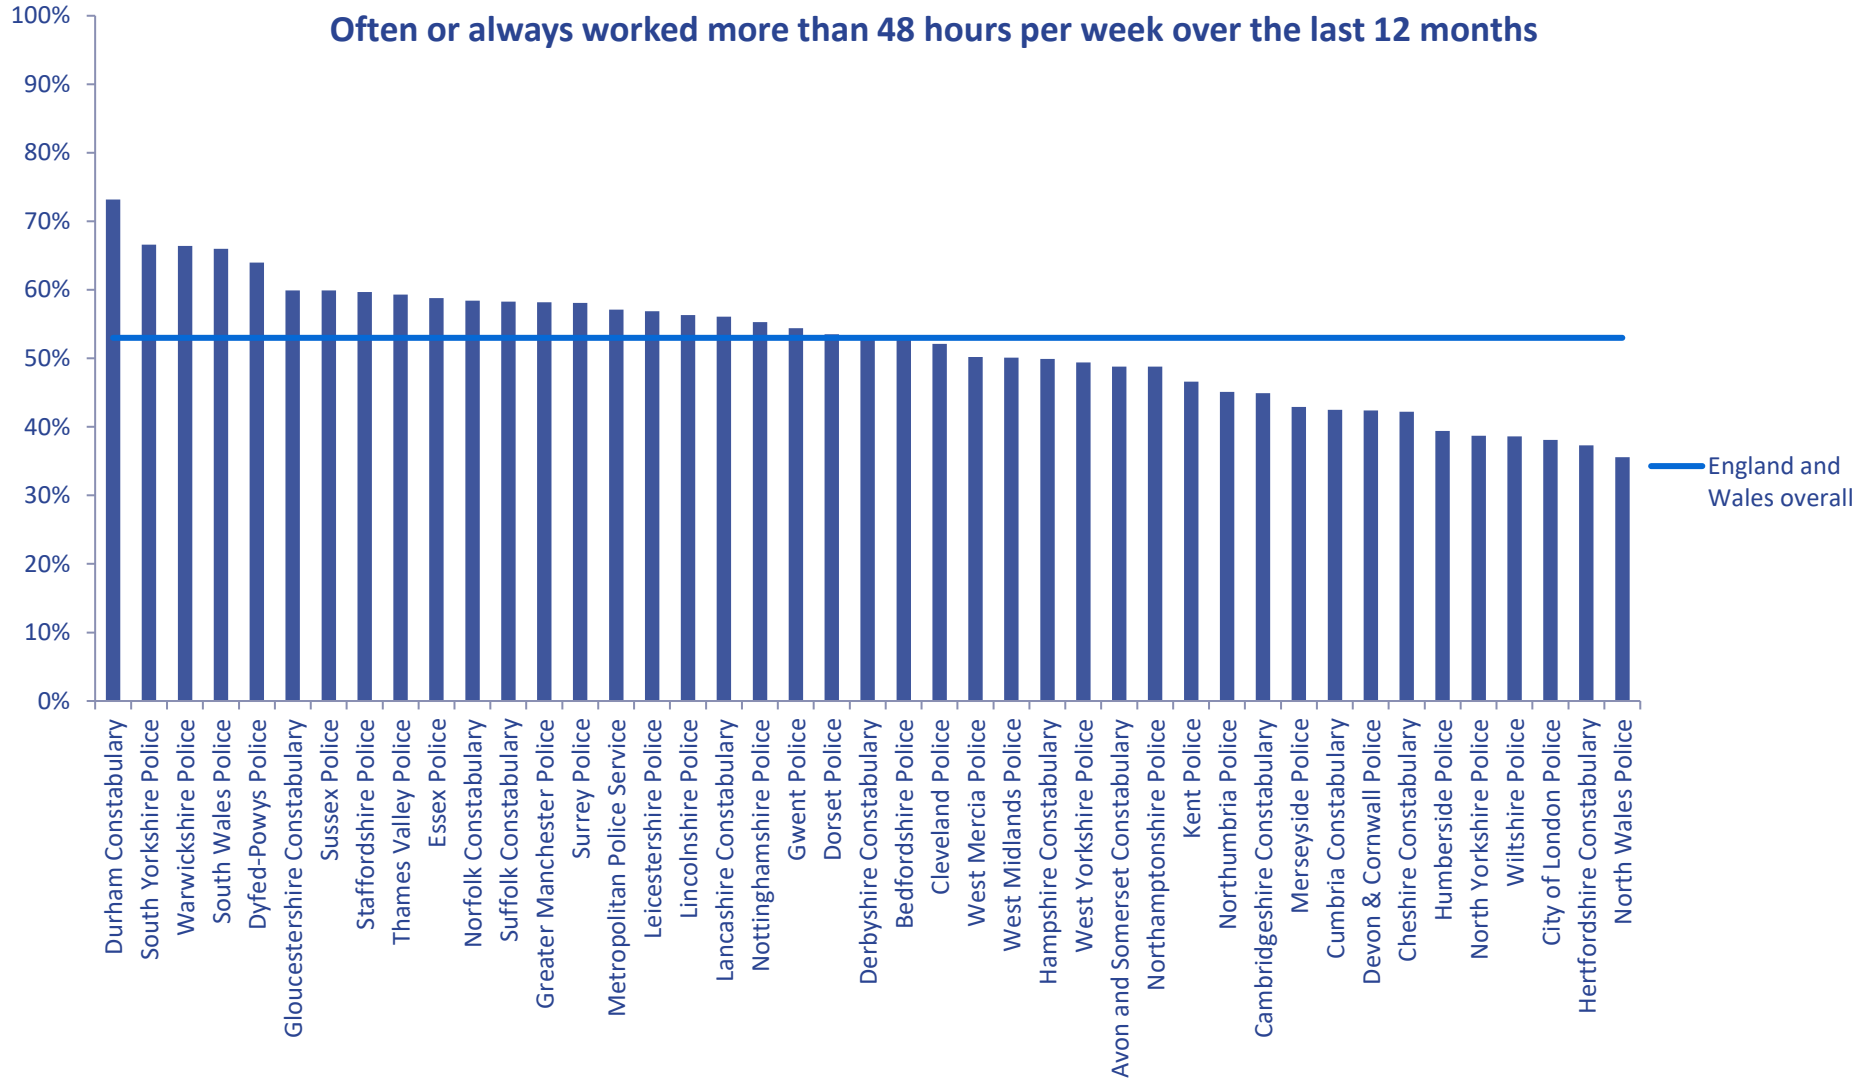

Over the last 12 months, how often have you been able to take at least one rest day per week

53% of respondents from Metropolitan Police Service said that over the last 12 months, their workload has been too high or much too high. This proportion is lower than the proportion of respondents in England and Wales where 63% of respondents said that over the last 12 months their workload has been too high or much too high.

57% of respondents from Metropolitan Police Service said that over the last 12 months they have often or always worked more than 48 hours per week. In England and Wales overall, 53% of respondents said that over the last 12 months they have often or always worked more than 48 hours per week.

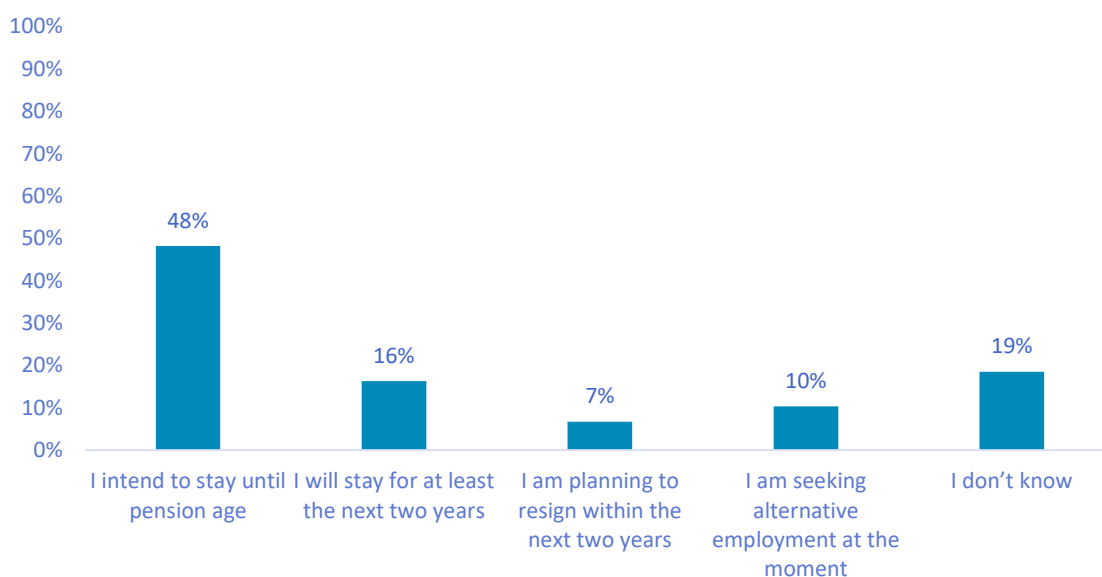

Often or always worked more than 48 hours per week over the last 12 months

INTENTION TO LEAVE

17% of respondents from Metropolitan Police Service told us that they had an intention to resign from the police service either within the next 2 years or as soon as possible. In comparison, in England and Wales as a whole 12% of respondents said that they intended to resign either as soon as possible or within the next two years.

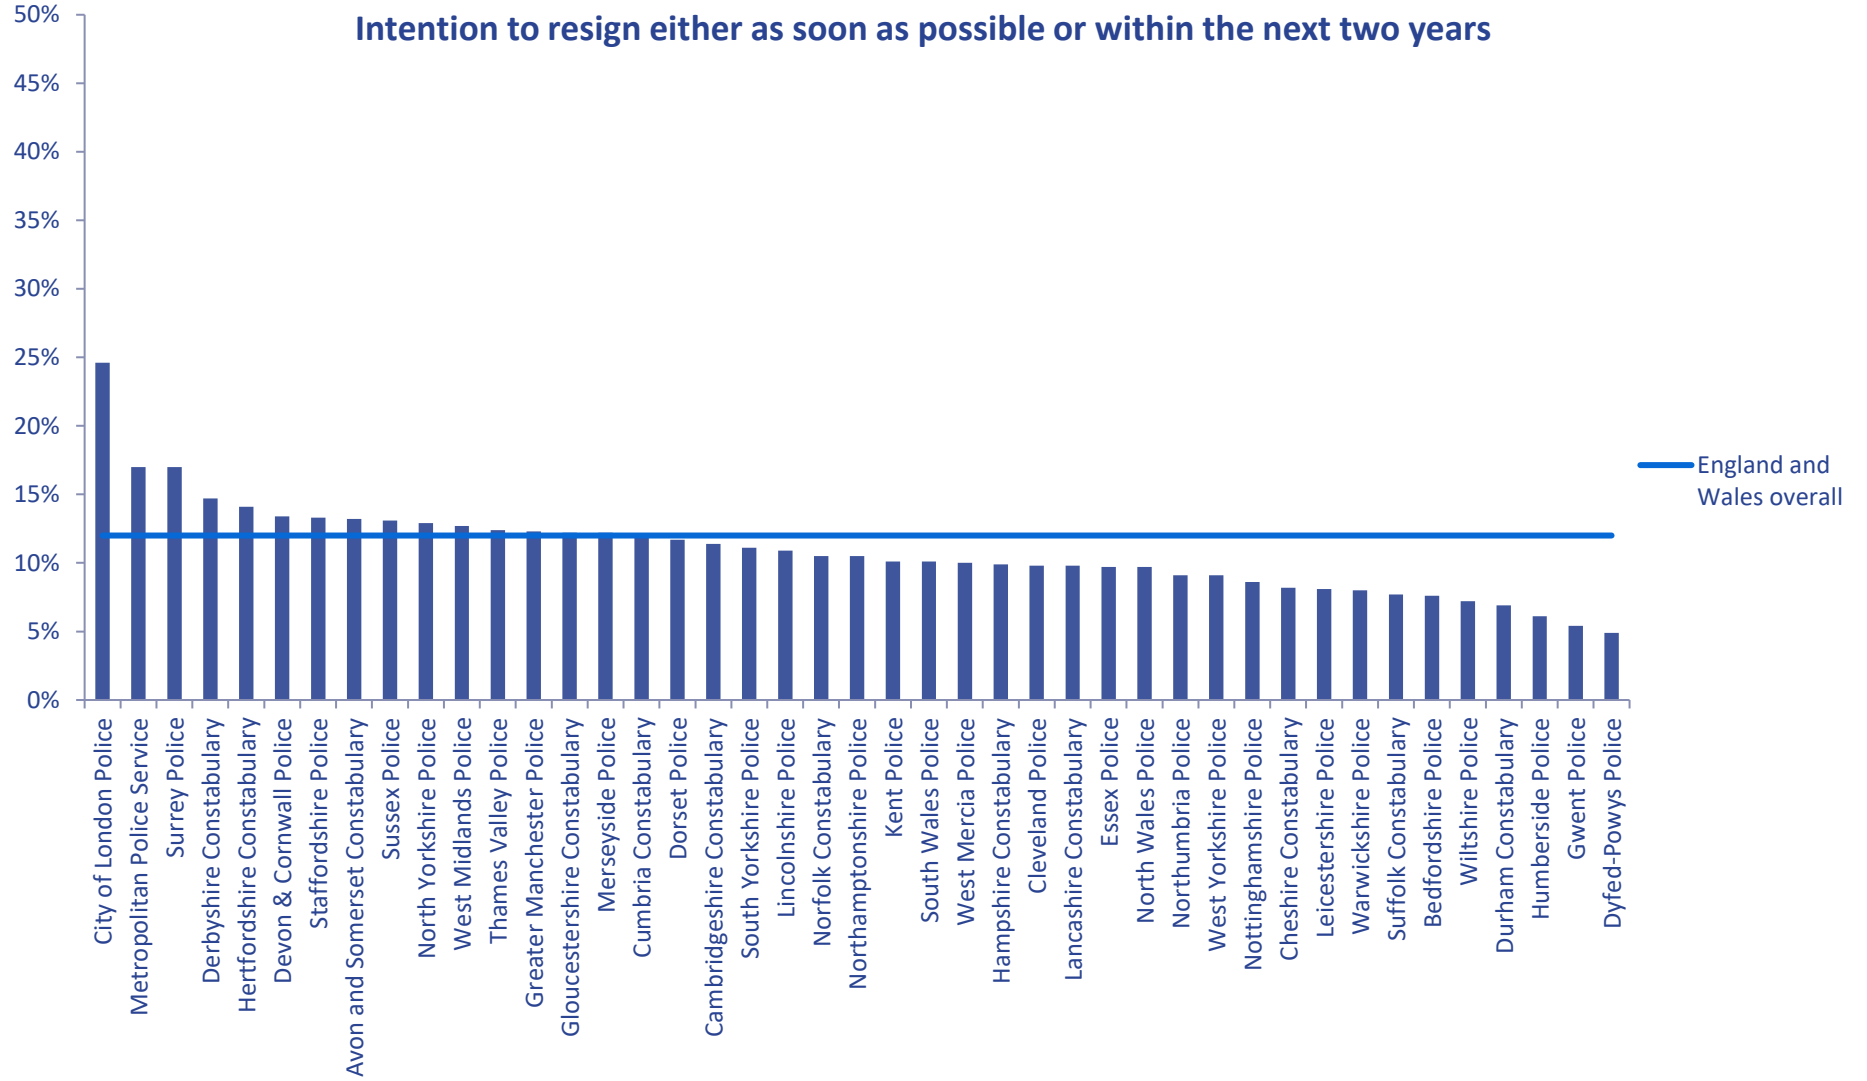

Intention to stay in or to leave the police service

Comparison of 2021 and 2020 figures for intention to leave within the next 2 years or as soon as possible in Metropolitan Police Service are provided in the table below.

	2021	2020
Intention to resign from the police service within the next 2 years or as soon as possible	17%	13%

Intention to resign either as soon as possible or within the next two years

REASONS FOR INTENDING TO LEAVE THE POLICE SERVICE

Respondents who had said they intended to leave were asked to indicate the reasons behind this intention. The table below shows the proportion of respondents in Metropolitan Police Service who said that a particular factor has had a major effect on their intention to leave, compared to the national average.

Please be aware that respondents were able to choose more than one option therefore the figures provide below will not add up to 100%.

Factor	Major effect on intention to leave (Metropolitan Police Service)	Major effect on intention to leave (England and Wales)
The impact of your job on your family/personal life	56%	56%
Your morale	83%	82%
Your pay	79%	69%
Better job opportunities outside of the Police	68%	59%
The impact of the job on your physical health and wellbeing	63%	64%
The impact of the job on your psychological health and wellbeing	70%	73%
Your workload and responsibilities	40%	48%
How the police are treated by the public	62%	55%
How the police are treated by the government	84%	77%
Your pension	61%	51%

NOTE FOR BRANCH BOARDS

Additional findings from the 2021 Pay and Morale survey are available on request from the Research and Policy department. Additional topics include, but are not limited to:

- Reasons for not applying for promotion
- Satisfaction with training and development
- Engagement (including pride in the police)

The findings of the survey can also be broken down in more detail in terms of different demographic groups, such as rank, role or length of service. However please be aware that we can only go into a certain level of detail with this demographic data in order to preserve respondents' confidentiality.

Branch Boards wishing to obtain further information in a certain area can contact ResearchandDataCollection@polfed.org to discuss their requirements. The Research and Policy Department only has one member of staff responsible for these data requests therefore please bear this in mind in terms of turnaround times and the amount of data you request.

All other interested parties should speak to their local Police Federation Branch Board in the first instance.