INTRODUCTION

The PFEW Pay and Morale Survey obtains federated rank members' views on their pay and conditions, as well as their attitudes to their work and the police service in general. The Pay and Morale survey is one of the largest annual surveys of police officers conducted within England and Wales and has been conducted every year since 2014.

This year, unlike previous years, the Pay and Morale survey has been combined with the Demand, Capacity, and Welfare survey. The PFEW Demand, Capacity and Welfare Survey is a biennial survey that was launched in 2016 in response to unprecedented budgetary cuts and a 14% fall in officer numbers over the previous seven years². Combining these two surveys into one allows members' views to be collected and presented in a more streamlined manner.

This report provides a summary of responses to the PFEW Pay and Morale Survey received from respondents within Thames Valley Police in 2022. Where appropriate, details of overall responses for the police service as a whole are also presented³.

RESPONSE RATE AND RESPONDENTS

1253 responses were received from Thames Valley Police, representing a response rate of around 27% (based on March 2022 Home Office figures of officer headcount⁴). The national response rate for the 2022 survey was approximately 26% of all federated rank officers in England and Wales. Last year's response rate for Thames Valley was 21%. Please bear this in mind when making comparisons with last year's findings.

REPRESENTATIVENESS

To calculate whether the sample size is representative, it is necessary to take the population size into account, along with the margin of error and the confidence level. In essence, the margin of error measures the maximum amount by which the results from the sample are expected to differ from those of the actual population and is calculated using the sample size (the number of responses from federated rank officers in Thames Valley the population size (the total number of federated rank officers in Thames Valley and the confidence level.

² Home Office. (2022). Police Workforce, England and Wales, 31 March 2022: data tables [Dataset]. <https://www.gov.uk/government/statistics/police-workforce-england-and-wales-31-march-2022>

⁴ Home Office. (2022). Police Workforce, England and Wales, 31 March 2022: data tables [Dataset]. <https://www.gov.uk/government/statistics/police-workforce-england-and-wales-31-march-2022>

The smaller the margin of error, the more confident we can be that the results are representative of the overall sample. For example: If 60% of respondents answered 'Yes' to one of the survey questions and the margin of error is 5%, we can estimate that 55% - 65% of the whole population would answer the same if asked.

If the margin of error is less than 5%, it can be considered to be within the normal bounds of academic rigour. The margin of error for this report has been calculated, and at a 95% confidence level, this report has a margin of error of 2%.

Overall, in England and Wales, 998 survey respondents declined to state which force they belonged to. The responses from these officers have been included within the national data but are excluded from force-level analysis.

67% of responses from Thames Valley Police were received from male officers and 33% of responses were from female officers. 75% of respondents were Constables, 18% were Sergeants, 6% were Inspectors and 1% were Chief Inspectors.

PAY AND REMUNERATION

COST OF LIVING

97% of respondents from Thames Valley Police reported that their cost of living had increased over the month prior to completing the survey. This finding is consistent amongst all forces across England and Wales with respondents from all forces most likely to say that their cost of living had increased over the month prior to completing the survey; nationally this proportion is 98%.

Figure 1: Over the last month, has your cost of living...

69% of respondents from Thames Valley Police reported worrying about the state of their finances 'every day' or 'almost every day'. This is on par with the national figure for England and Wales as a whole, where 69% of respondents reported that they worried about money 'every day' or 'almost every day'.

62% of respondents in Thames Valley Police said that they had enough money to cover all of their essentials either ‘every month’ or ‘almost every month’. In contrast, 19% reported ‘never’ or ‘almost never’ having enough money to cover their monthly essentials. Nationally, the proportion of respondents who said they ‘never’ or ‘almost never’ had enough money to cover their essentials was 19%.

86% of respondents from Thames Valley Police felt that they were ‘worse off’ financially than they were five years ago. This is the same as England and Wales as a whole, where 87% of respondents said that they were ‘worse off’ financially than five years ago.

Table 1: Cost of living	2022	2021

REASONS FOR COST OF LIVING INCREASE

Respondents indicating that their cost of living had increased over the previous month were asked why this was the case. Respondents were presented with a predesigned list of six potential reasons (please see the table below) and asked to tick all that applied. Results from Thames Valley Police can be seen in the left of Table Two below with national comparisons on the right.

Table 2: Reasons for increased cost of living ⁵	Over the last month, for what reasons has your cost of living increased? Please tick all that apply
	Thames Valley Police	England and Wales
My gas or electricity bills have increased	94%	95%

Figure 9: Proportion of respondents saying that they have had a PDR in the last 12 months

Please note: City of London Police and Warwickshire Police did not receive the minimum number of responses required to receive a force report. As such, these forces have been removed from this figure.

10% of respondents from Thames Valley Police said that they have applied for a promotion to the next rank up from the one they are currently in this year. This is slightly less than the proportion of respondents in England and Wales overall who said that they have applied for a promotion this year (13%).

Of the 10% of respondents who said they have applied for promotion in the last year, just 3% were successful in the promotion process and 5% were unsuccessful in the promotion process; 3% of respondents said that they are in the process of completing the promotion process. Across England and Wales, of the 13% who applied for a promotion, 2% were successful in the promotion process and 5% were unsuccessful in the promotion process; 6% are still in the process of completing the promotion process.

INTENTION TO LEAVE

OVERALL INTENTION TO LEAVE

24% of respondents from Thames Valley Police told us that they had an intention to resign from the police service either ‘within the next two years’ or ‘as soon as [they] can’. In comparison, in England and Wales as a whole 18% of respondents said that they intended to resign either ‘as soon as [they] can’ or ‘within the next two years’.

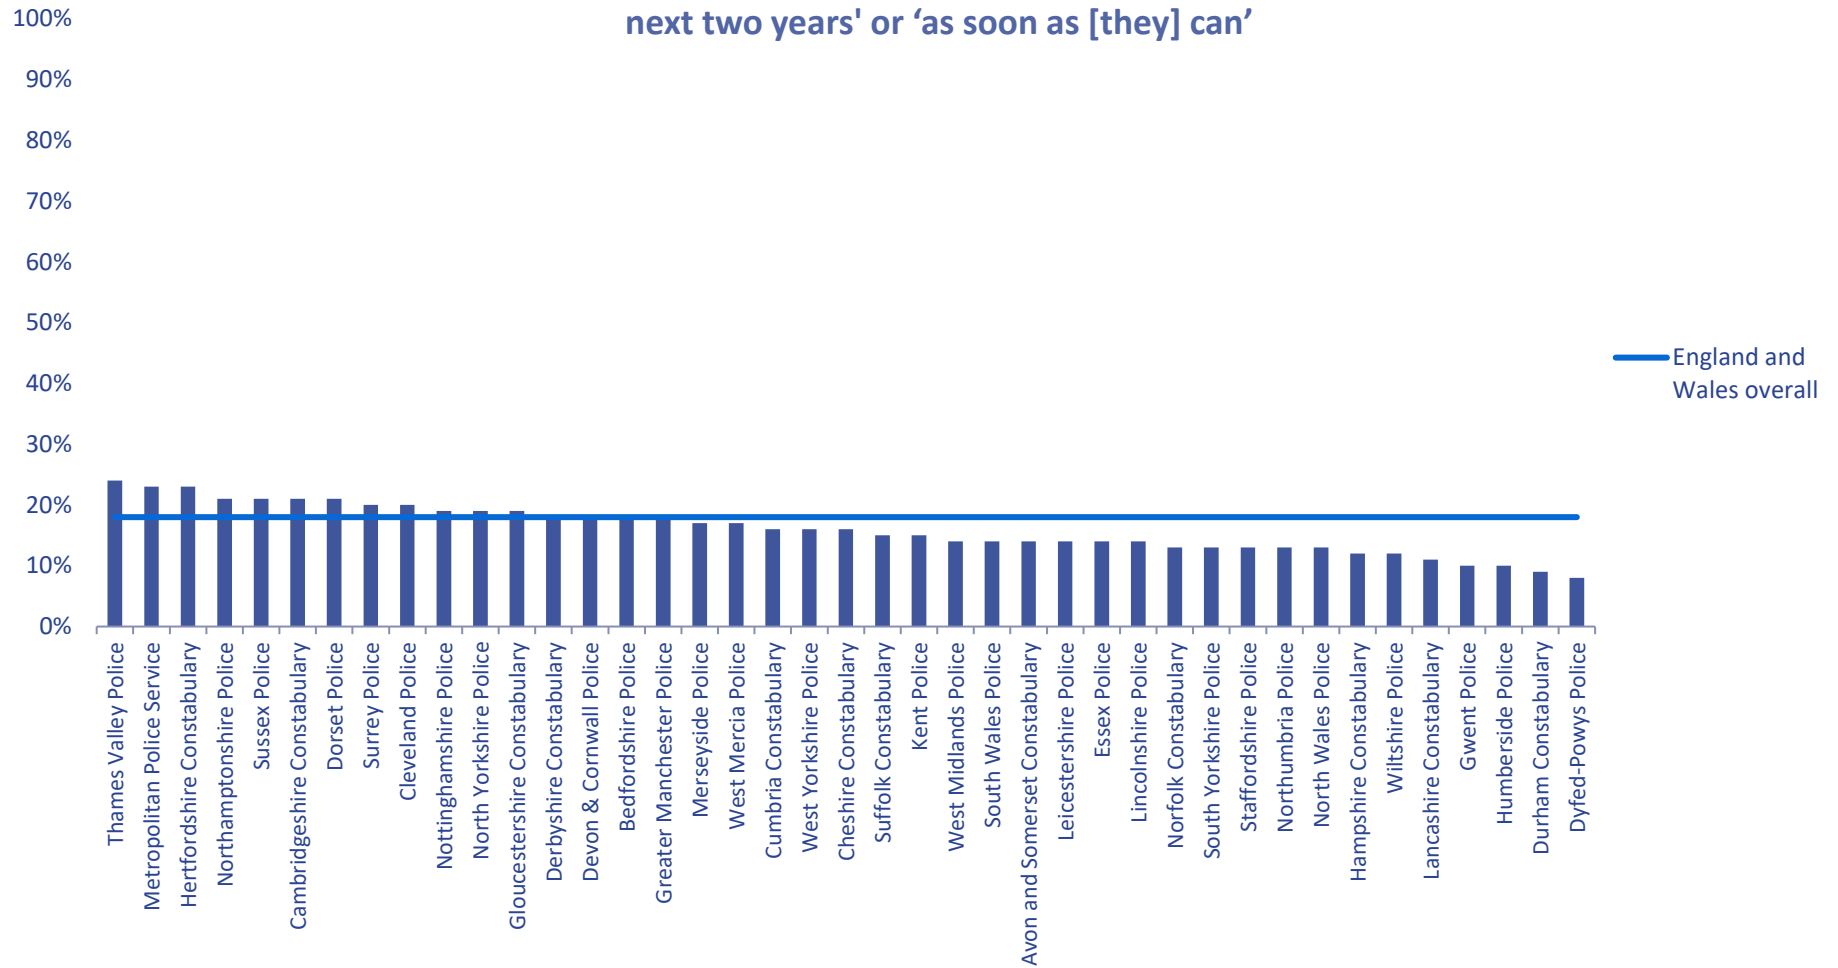

Figure 11: Respondents' intentions with regard to staying in or leaving the police service

Comparison of 2022 and 2021 figures for intention to leave ‘within the next two years’ or ‘as soon as [they] can’ in Thames Valley Police are provided in the table below.

Please note: City of London Police and Warwickshire Police did not receive the minimum number of responses required to receive a force report. As such, these forces have been removed from this figure.

REASONS FOR INTENDING TO LEAVE THE POLICE SERVICE

Respondents who had said they intend to leave were asked to indicate the reasons behind this decision. The table below shows the proportion of respondents in Thames Valley Police who said that a particular factor has had a major effect on their intention to leave. The national average for each factor has been included on the right for comparison.

Table 13: Reasons for intending to leave the police service ⁷	Proportion reporting a major effect on their intention to leave...

⁷ Please note – respondents were able to select more than one option to this question and so proportions will not total 100%

WORKLOAD AND WORKING TIME

WORKLOAD

When asked about their workload, 72% of respondents from Thames Valley Police said that, over the last 12 months, their workload has been ‘too high’ or ‘much too high’. This proportion is in line with the proportion of respondents in England and Wales, where 66% of respondents said that over the last 12 months their workload has been ‘too high’ or ‘much too high’.

Figure 13: How would you rate your workload over the last 12 months?

WORKING HOURS

41% of respondents from Thames Valley Police said that over the last 12 months they have ‘often’ or ‘always’ been pressured to work long hours. This proportion is eight percentage points higher than the proportion of respondents in England and Wales where 33% of respondents said that they are ‘often’ or ‘always’ pressured to work long hours.

Figure 14: Proportion who are 'often' or 'always' pressured to work long hours

Please note: City of London Police and Warwickshire Police did not receive the minimum number of responses required to receive a force report. As such, these forces have been removed from this figure.

When asked about their breaks and shift patterns 60% of respondents from Thames Valley Police said they were ‘rarely’ or ‘never able’ to take their full rest break entitlement and 6% said they were ‘rarely’ or ‘never’ able to take an 11-hour break between shifts. This compares to 50% and 6% of officers respectively across England and Wales who said they have ‘rarely’ or ‘never’ been able to take their full rest break entitlement or an 11-hour break between shifts over the past 12 months.

In contrast, 56% of respondents from Thames Valley Police have said they ‘always’ or ‘often’ worked more than 48 hours per week over the past 12 months. This is nine percentage points larger than the proportion of respondents in England and Wales as a whole who said that over the past 12 months they ‘always’ or ‘often’ worked more than 48 hours per week, which this year was 47%.

94% of respondents from Thames Valley Police said that during a four-week period they worked paid or unpaid overtime. Respondents from Thames Valley Police worked on average (median)¹⁰ 10 hours of paid overtime and five hours of unpaid overtime¹¹. In England and Wales overall, 92% of respondents said that during a four-week period they worked paid or unpaid overtime amounting to an average of 10 hours of paid overtime and five hours of unpaid overtime.

Table 16: Paid and unpaid overtime	Thames Valley Police	England and Wales
Average hours paid overtime (median)	10 hours	10 hours
Average hours unpaid overtime (median)	5 hours	5 hours

When asked what the most frequent and second most frequent reason for working overtime was, the most common responses in Thames Valley Police were ‘there weren’t enough officers on shift in my team/unit’ (42%) and ‘I wanted to finish my work’ (19%). In England and Wales overall, the most common responses were ‘there weren’t enough officers on shift in my team/unit’ (34%) and ‘I wanted to finish my work’ (21%).

The table below shows the percentage of respondents reporting each of these as the main reason for working overtime.

Table 17: Reasons for working overtime	Proportion of respondents reporting the following as their most frequent reason for working overtime over the past 12 months...
	Thames Valley Police	England and Wales
There weren't enough officers on shift in my team/unit	42%	34%

¹⁰ “Average” can refer to one of three statistics: The mean is the numeric average calculated by adding all the data points together and dividing by the number of data point points. Examples a) 10+10+10+10+20+30 / 6 = 15 - the mean is 15. b) 10+20+30=60, then 60 / 4 =15. The mode is whatever data point is most often found within the data set Examples a) 10, 10, 10, 10, 20, 30 - the mode is 10. b) 10, 20, 30 – there is no mode.

The median is calculated by setting out the numbers in ascending order, and finding the number that separates the top half, from the bottom half Examples a) 10, 10, 10, 10, 20, 30, the median is 10. b) 10, 20, 30 the median is 20. The median is a more appropriate measure than the mean when there are extreme outliers. It is often used in salary or pay / conditions analysis for that reason.

¹¹ Please note: these findings relate only to respondents who said that they had worked overtime in the past 12 months.

Table 17: Reasons for working overtime	Proportion of respondents reporting the following as their most frequent reason for working overtime over the past 12 months...

I get rewarded for it (e.g., money, recognition)	6%	13%

SAFETY, VIOLENCE AND PHYSICAL INJURIES

VIOLENCE FROM CITIZENS

Verbal and physical violence was assessed by presenting respondents with six examples of violence and asking them to indicate the frequency with which they had experienced each in the previous 12 months. This included; verbal insults, verbal threats, spitting assaults, unarmed physical attacks, attacks using a vehicle, and attacks with a deadly weapon from members of the public. Findings for Thames Valley Police are presented in the Table below, which displays the percentage of those who experience these types of violence once a week or more. The findings are presented beside the figures for 2020 for comparison.

Table 18: Violence from citizens	Proportion of respondents reporting that they have experienced the following at least once a week over the previous 12 months...
	2022	2020
Verbal insults (e.g., swearing, shouting, abuse)	33%	28%
Verbal threats (e.g. threat of hitting, threat of kicking)	19%	17%
Spitting assaults (i.e., being deliberately spat upon)	2%	1%
Unarmed physical attacks (e.g., struggling to get free, wrestling, hitting, kicking)	10%	9%
Use of a deadly weapon (e.g., stick, bottle, axe, firearm)	1%	0%

ACCESS TO EQUIPMENT (PROTECTION)

Respondents were asked to indicate how regularly they had access to various protective safety measures and equipment. The answer options ranged from 'never' to 'at all times' whilst on duty.

19% of respondents from Thames Valley Police said that they have access to double crewing 'at all times' whilst they are on duty. This is compared to 25% of respondents in England and Wales nationally who have access to double crewing 'at all times'. In comparison, most respondents from Thames Valley Police have access to a baton (91%) and incapacitant spray (90%) 'at all times' whilst they are on duty. This is compared to 91% of respondents in England and Wales nationally who have access to a baton and 90% who have access to incapacitant spray 'at all times' when they are on duty.

Table 19: Access to Equipment (Protection)	I have access to the following 'at all times' when on duty...
	Thames Valley Police	England and Wales
Double crewing	19%	25%
Body worn cameras	84%	81%
Incapacitant spray	90%	90%
Baton	91%	91%
Body Armour, including stab vests	89%	90%

Most commonly, 92% of respondents from Thames Valley Police said that they would like to have access to a baton and 91% of respondents would like to have access to incapacitant spray 'at all times' whilst on duty. This is compared to 92% of respondents in England and Wales nationally who would like to have access to a baton and 92% who would like to have access to incapacitant spray 'at all times' whilst on duty.

INJURIES

14% of Thames Valley Police respondents reported that they had suffered one or more injuries that required medical attention as a result of work-related violence in the last year. This is smaller than the proportion reporting one or more injuries as a result of work-related violence in the national sample (18%) and on par with the proportion reported by Thames Valley Police in 2020 (13%).

12% of Thames Valley Police respondents reported that they had suffered one or more injuries that required medical attention as a result of work-related accidents in the last year. This is on par with the proportion reporting one or more injuries as a result of work-related accidents in the national sample (13%) and the same as the proportion reported by Thames Valley Police in 2020 (12%).

HEALTH AND WELLBEING

OVERALL PHYSICAL HEALTH

71% of respondents from Thames Valley Police told us that their overall physical health was 'good' or 'very good'. In comparison, in England and Wales as a whole, 73% of respondents said that their overall physical health was 'good' or 'very good'.

Comparison of 2022 and 2020 figures for overall health are provided in the table below.

Table 20: Overall physical health	2022	2020
Proportion of respondents reporting that their physical health is 'good' or 'very good'	71%	71%

ABSENCE, PRESENTEEISM, AND LEAVEISM

When asked about absence from work, 61% of respondents from Thames Valley Police reported one or more days of sickness absence and 30% of respondents indicated that at least one day of their sickness absence was attributable to stress, depression, or anxiety. Nationally, 59% said they had taken one or more days of sickness, and 29% indicated at least one day of their sickness absence was attributable to stress, depression, or anxiety.

Presenteeism is the act of attending work while ill. Leaveism is a term to describe hidden sickness absence and work undertaken during rest periods. A core dimension of leaveism includes using allocated time off such as annual leave entitlements to take time off when they are in fact unwell. The proportion of respondents from Thames Valley Police who reported experiencing presenteeism or using annual leave in this manner are presented in the table below.

Table 21: Absence and Presenteeism		Proportion of respondents reporting the following absence behaviour once or more over the previous 12 months...
		2022	2020
Presenteeism	Due to physical health	65%	66%
	Due to psychological health	68%	67%
Using annual leave to take time off due to health	Due to physical health	30%	33%
	Due to psychological health	47%	51%

MENTAL HEALTH AND WELLBEING

45% of respondents said that they find their job ‘very’ or ‘extremely’ stressful. When removing those who were ‘very’ or ‘extremely’ stressed outside of work this number falls to 44%. This compares to 42% and 41% nationally. A further 86% of respondents indicated that they had experienced feelings of stress, low mood, anxiety or other difficulties with their health and wellbeing over the last 12 months. This compares to 82% nationally.

Table 22: Mental health and wellbeing	2022	2020
Proportion of respondents reporting that they find their job ‘very’ or ‘extremely’ stressful	45%	33%
Proportion of respondents reporting that they have experienced feelings of stress, low mood, anxiety, or other difficulties with my health and wellbeing over the last 12 months	86%	81%

ANXIETY, HAPPINESS, LIFE SATISFACTION AND WORTHWHILENESS

Respondents were asked to rate their overall life satisfaction, their anxiety levels, how happy they were, and how worthwhile they felt the things they do in their lives were. Each of these questions was answered on a scale of 0 to 10, where 0 represented 'not at all' and 10 equated to 'completely.' For example, in regard to anxiety, 0 would represent 'not at all anxious' and 10 equated to 'completely anxious.' Findings are presented below alongside comparator figures from the general population.

Table 23: Measurements of wellbeing	Average scores for the following single-item measurements of wellbeing
	Thames Valley Police	General Public ¹²
Overall, how satisfied are you with your life nowadays?	5.2	7.5
Overall, to what extent do you feel the things you do in your life are worthwhile?	6.0	7.8
Overall, how happy did you feel yesterday?	5.4	7.4
Overall, how anxious did you feel yesterday?	4.3	3.2

Please note: City of London Police and Warwickshire Police did not receive the minimum number of responses required to receive a force report. As such, these forces have been removed from this figure

MENTAL HEALTH AND WELLBEING SUPPORT SERVICES

Often, mental health services can be grouped into reactive and proactive services. The primary aim of reactive services is to help those who are already experiencing difficulties with their mental health and wellbeing, while proactive mental health and wellbeing support services aim to help prevent difficulties with mental health and wellbeing from developing. Examples of reactive mental health services include counselling, helpline services and peer support groups, while proactive services might include mindfulness workshops, resilience training, mental health awareness programmes, and access to mental health apps.

When asked whether they were aware of mental health and wellbeing services that their force offers, 80% of respondents reported they were aware of reactive services and 47% reported they were aware of proactive services. At the national level, 75% were aware of reactive and 45% were aware of proactive mental health and wellbeing services offered by their respective force.

Table 24: Awareness of mental health services	Proportion of respondents reporting that they were aware of...
	Thames Valley Police	England and Wales
Reactive services offered by their force to support the mental health and wellbeing of its employees	80%	75%
Proactive services offered by their force to support the mental health and wellbeing of its employees	47%	45%

NOTE FOR BRANCH BOARDS

Additional findings from the 2022 Pay and Morale survey are available on request from the Research and Policy department. Additional topics include, but are not limited to:

- Dog handler and regional allowances
- Contraction of COVID-19 and long COVID
- Organisational attitudes and culture regarding mental health and wellbeing
- Recent changes to the recent changes to the CPS Director's Guidance on Charging (implemented in January 2021) and the impact on officers

The findings of the survey can also be broken down in more detail in terms of different demographic groups, such as rank, role or length of service. However please be aware that we can only go into a certain level of detail with this demographic data in order to preserve respondents' confidentiality.

Branch Boards wishing to obtain further information in a certain area can contact ResearchandDataCollection@polfed.org to discuss their requirements.

All other interested parties should speak to their local Police Federation Branch Board in the first instance.
