

About The Health Insurance Group

When you are looking for a healthcare partner, you want to work with a company you can trust. Someone who can help you to make informed decisions so you can take care of your biggest asset: your employees.

We are an award-winning independent intermediary specialising in health and wellbeing. As part of the AXA Group we have been working with providers to offer individual and business solutions at home and internationally since 2003.

We offer expert, tailored advice on a range of health and wellbeing products.

We'll do the hard work for you

As an independent intermediary, we'll explore the whole market to source the best products and providers to meet your needs.

We have strong relationships with big household names, along with many smaller providers, all offering excellent products and service, giving you a wide range of options.

We will provide you with impartial, accurate and innovative guidance, and work with you to help you understand and navigate the various programmes and cost options available to you.

Focussed on service

Our award-winning customer service, dedicated support teams and exceptional value make us a clear choice for your business.

“ From pensions and protection policies, to private medical insurance, international policies and wellbeing tools such as Employee Assistance Programmes and stress intervention, we can help. ”

With The Health Insurance Group you can be sure of:

- Expert, independent advisers working as true healthcare partners
- Access to market leading benefits
- Competitive prices
- Excellent service levels
- Extensive choice

Don't just take our word for it:

- Rated as 'Exceptional' by Investor In Customers
- Winner of Best Health and Wellbeing Intermediary 2016 at the Health Insurance Awards
